FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Boing Boing Inflatables Accepted to the Association of Inflatable Rental Company Operators

(AIRCO, Columbia, SC) – Local moonwalk and party rental company, Boing Boing Inflatables, has been accepted for membership to AIRCO, the Association of Inflatable Rental Company Operators (AIRCO).

AIRCO is a trade group dedicated to safe and professional operation of inflatable amusement rentals. Because inflatable rides are mainly rented to entertain children, safety is a key concern throughout the industry. When improperly secured, moonwalks and inflatable slides can be blown over by large gusts of wind or other unforeseen weather hazards. AIRCO members follow consistent safety guidelines, are insured, and don't allow customers to pick up inflatables themselves. Membership is limited to companies who meet the high standards for professionalism and safety set by the organization.

Boing Boing Inflatables has been in business since August 2006, providing safe and professional service to the greater Murfreesboro area. Boing Boing Inflatables rents a wide variety of equipment, including moonwalks, combos, wet/dry slides, obstacle courses, cotton candy and sno-kones for church and school events as well as backyard parties and public festivals. Boing Boing Inflatables is known for clean and sanitized equipment, on time deliveries that are free within 25 miles, their all day rental period and they only use the safest equipment available.
